Forecast for Monday 12 Oct 2020

Weather: Rain turning increasingly widespread through the early hours to leave a dull and wet start across all ranges. Skies will clear from the west through late morning before extending to the eastern ranges by early afternoon. A few showers developing later, mainly west of the A9, these wintry above around 800m.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 800m: Virtually no chance through much of the morning with the cloud base widely around 300-500m. Improving to 90% as skies clear from the west, but still a few areas of cloud lingering above 900m.

Visibility: Widely less than a kilometre or so at height in rain with persistent fog and nearly constant rain making navigation difficult. Much improved for all areas by afternoon away from wintry showers.
